Solis 01.02 is a side table that captivates with its original form and refined aesthetics. Its square tabletop combined with an oval structural element creates a unique geometry, blending raw precision with subtle harmony.

The rich color palette allows it to complement various interiors, while the option to pair it with other models from the Solis collection enables the creation of cohesive and distinctive arrangements. It's a fusion of aesthetics and functionality that enhances the character of modern spaces.

The tabletop and base are made from high-quality MDF, while the central rod inside the table is crafted from natural wood.
